Voters oust trustee in recall election

The voters spoke last week and ended a Bruneau/Grand View School District's trustee term with a 92-62 affirmative vote to a recall election filed earlier this year. Russ Turner's term ended last week when nearly 75 percent of the total voters in zone one said no more to Turner's position.

Turner's recall was filed when petitioners claimed he violated the trust of electorates and the children in the school district. The petition said that "trustees must put the children's interest above all others" and "they must listen to the parents and employees of the district. When things are not going well, they must care enough

Elections to be held in Homedale and Grand View

School districts across the state will hold school board trustee elections on May 17 and in Owyhee County, districts in Homedale and Grand View will be among them. Unless an opponent files as a write in candidate in the Marsing School District an election will not be held as only the incumbents, Betty Ackerman in zone 3 and John Ineck, in zone 5, filed for another term.

But in Homedale, incumbent Benita Miller will campaign against Kevin Miyasako who also filed for candidacy in zone 3 and Ric Uria, incumbent will face Samuel Page in zone 4.

In the Bruneau-Grand View School District, the names of those running for school board were not released upon request Monday. Several attempts were made Friday to acquire the names, but calls were not answered. Monday, the Owyhee Avalanche was told that the person who handles the election was not available and would not be until Wednesday. The candidates' names will be published in next week's paper.

Lazy spring day

A couple of fishermen sit on the dock at the Marsing Island Park enjoying a break in the weather Sunday afternoon. Temperatures are expected to remain around normal, 60 to 65 degrees throughout the week with an occasional scattered rain shower.

City requests re-negotiation of impact area

The City of Homedale is requesting that the Owyhee County Commissioners renegotiate the area of impact for the city and has given the county 30 days to begin talks. Planning and zoning administrator Sylvia Bahem submitted a letter to the council dated Dec. 28 of last year requesting the council submit a letter to commissioners to reopen talks about the impact area. In February, the council submitted a letter to commissioners requesting they reopen negotiations and last week, the commissioners responded.

A Homedale City ordinance states that the city and the commissioners shall review the area of impact agreement at any time upon either party's request. Mayor Paul Fink could not be reached for comment last week.

Commissioners responded last week by requesting the city advise of three elected officials who will participate in the renegotiation. They said they will select three officers and the commissioners and council will then choose three residents to participate.

The council chose Dave Downum, Cindy Sims and Steve Schultz to head up the city's interests.

"Due to increased population in the City, we feel it is necessary to address the area of impact," Downum said. "It is mostly a formality, but if we need to change boundaries, we need to discuss it now with the county."

Homedale trustees announce plant facilities levy election

A plant facilities levy election will be held in the Homedale School District next month in conjunction with the school board election. Locations to vote were announced last week.

The election will be held on May 17. The district is asking voters to approve a reserve fund levy in the amount of $150,000 beginning July 1, 2005 and continuing each year for 10 years.

The question on the ballot will read: "shall the Board of Trustees of Homedale Joint School District #370, Canyon and Owyhee Counties, Idaho be authorized and empowered to levy a School Plant Facilities Reserve Fund Levy in the amount of $150,000 (one-hundred fifty thousand), for the first fiscal year beginning July 1, 2005 and continuing each year in the amount of $150,000 (one-hundred fifty thousand) for 10 (ten) years for the purpose of allowing the District to acquire, purchase or improve school site or sites; to accumulate funds for and to build a school house or school houses or other building or buildings; to demolish or remove school buildings; to add to, remodel or repair any existing building; to furnish and equip any building or buildings, including all lighting, heating, ventilation and sanitation facilities and appliances necessary to maintain and operated buildings of the District; to purchase school buses; for lease and lease purchase agreements for any of the above purpose and to repay loans from commercial lending institutions extended to pay for the construction of school plant facilities."

A super majority vote is needed for the election, which is two thirds of the total vote.

Hearing on Wilke Farms CAFO application continued this week

The Planning and Zoning Commission heard testimony for two days last week on the application for a confined animal feed lot filed by Wilke Farms. The hearing then was continued to Monday afternoon when Tom Wilke was scheduled for rebuttal testimony and questions from the members of the Commission. Results of the hearing were not available at press time.

Commissioners Gene Jayo, chairman, Connie Brandau, Jerry Hoagland, and John Urquidi heard the testimony and Over twenty persons were in attendance during the hearing. Commissioner Landa recused himself and Fred Kelly Grant served as Hearing Officer.

Attorney Chris Meyers from Boise, represented Wilke Farms, and Beaver Dayton and other residents of the subdivision near the proposed site were represented by Lois Hart from Homedale. The hearing began with a question to each Commissioner as to whether any person has spoken to them outside the hearing room about the Wilke operation. Commissioner Jayo said that when someone said something to him about the matter his response was "come to the hearing and find out." Commissioners Brandau and Hoagland stated that when people talked to them about the site, their response was that they really couldn't talk about the matter prior to the hearing. Commissioner Urquidi who is from the east side of the county said that no one had approached him to talk about the site.

Tom Wilke testified for over two hours under questioning from his attorney, cross examination by Hart and questions from the commissioners. His Nutrient Management Plan expert testified on Tuesday and concluded on Wednesday. He offered explanation of how the Nutrient Management Plan places restrictions on the proposed operation through the federal Clean Water Act.

Several landowners who object to the proposed site sat through Wilke's testimony and that of the expert both Tuesday and Wednesday in order to testify as to their concerns.

Local resident Beaver Dayton testified as to his concerns, describing them from the standpoint of his well digging experience and electrical experience. Mary Maher offered her testimony and that of her granddaughter through a letter, which she read into the record. Concern was expressed through that testimony as to the possible mosquito infestation, which could surround the standing water on the proposed site. Colletta Spence testified as to her concerns that her place, which includes a newer home, several head of stock and a large building, which combines several purposes such as a wood-working shop, lies adjacent to and across the road from the site. In her testimony, she stated her concern that they will not be able to sell their place for its real value because of presence of a feedlot.

The testimony was punctuated by several legal objections by both counsel, and the arguments surrounding controlling legal issues. Meyers objected as to any testimony or evidence as to the personal interactions between the Wilkes and neighbors in the area. He argued that under the state's Land Use Planning Act and the County Zoning Ordinance such incidents were irrelevant to a zoning issue and should be handled in the proper forum, such as law enforcement. Hart argued that the evidence was relevant under a Resolution issued by the Board of County Commissioners in 1999, which stated that prior operation experience of an applicant is relevant to consideration of whether an application should be granted. Meyers pointed out that there was no mention in either the Ordinance or the controlling Land Use Planning Act, which would allow such evidence to be admitted. He further argued that the Resolution was clearly limited to conduct regarding operation of a prior CAFO. Grant issued a decision, after reviewing the Ordinance, the Land Use Planning Act, the Resolution, and several legal authorities, that the evidence could be admitted, but only if it stemmed

US Marshals arrest Grand View woman

Over 10,000 arrested in nationwide operation

In a nationwide cooperative effort to clear nearly 20,000 felony warrants, the United States Marshals teamed up with federal, state and local law enforcement and performed the biggest fugitive apprehension operation in American history. Of the 10,340 fugitives arrested in the country, one confirmed and two not confirmed additional arrests were made in Owyhee County.

U.S. Marshal Pat McDonald said last week that in Idaho, 51 felony cases were cleared with 44 arrests made. He said he could confirm that Carla Pennington was arrested in Grand View and he was aware of two other arrests made in the Homedale and Marsing areas but he could not confirm them at press time.

Homedale Police Chief Jeff Eidemiller confirmed that a female adult was arrested in Homedale as part of the operation. But he said that the U.S. Marshall's office would have to release her name. McDonald said he did not have that information at this time.

"Falcon was the first national program that has been ran across the United States," McDonald said. "What it did was put 3,000 policemen on the road for one week that did nothing but apprehension. Idaho was part of that. It was a very successful operation. The people we focused"

In Idaho, six cases of assault, 13 burglary and larceny, one financial fraud, one homicide, 12 narcotics, three robbery, seven sexual assault, one failure to register as a sex offender and two weapons charges were cleared.

Operation FALCON, Federal and Local Cops Organized Nationally, was conducted in six days earlier this month. Deputy U.S. Marshals and law enforcement partners arrested over 10,000 fugitives and cleared more than 13,800 felony warrants. Officers from 960 federal, state and local law enforcement agencies took part in the concentrated search, which coincided with Crime Victims Rights Week.

Nationwide, more than 150 who were arrested were wanted for murder, another 550 were sought on rape or sexual assault charges and more than 600 had outstanding arrest warrants for armed robbery. Among those captured were 150 gang members and 100 unregistered sex offenders.

Congress gave the Marshals Service more money and authority to go after fugitives when it refocused the FBI's mission toward stopping terrorism in the wake of the Sept. 11, 2001 attacks.

"We can't do it all the time. We all don't have the resources that we need to be able to go out on an every day basis and do what we've done in the last week, but this certainly shows the potential of that capability," said McDonald.

"Operation FALCON is an excellent example of President Bush's direction and the Justice Department's dedication to deal both with the terrorist threat and traditional violent crime," said Attorney General Gonzales in a press release. "This joint effort shows the commitment of our federal, state, and local partners to make our neighborhoods safer, and it has led to the highest number of arrests ever recorded for a single initiative of its kind. We will use all of our Nation's law enforcement resources to serve the people, to pursue justice, and to make our streets and Nation safer."

"I applaud the achievements of every Deputy Marshal, police officer, detective, trooper, investigator, deputy sheriff, and special agent who hit the street virtually around-the-clock for seven days," said Robert J. Finan II, the Marshals Service's Assistant Director for Investigative Services. "Also of note is that during the course of this initiative, there were no serious incidents or serious injuries to either law enforcement officers or those who were taken into custody."

Lori Rasmussen

Realtor "back in the saddle"

After an automobile accident nearly claimed her life last year, Lori Rasmussen said she is "back in the saddle and ready to go to work". Lori a realtor, who works under the Coldwell Banker name, returned to her desk last month and said she may be confined to a wheel chair, but that is not slowing her down.

Last year Lori was involved in a horrific automobile accident. After spending six months in the hospital, seven weeks of which were in intensive care, she spent another three months in a care center. Her final diagnosis was that she would never walk again. But Lori said the diagnosis is just something she deals with and now she feels good, and is ready to get back into life.

Lori collided with a garbage truck on Highway 78 in May. She said she does not remember anything about the accident, but she understands that she ran a stop sign.

"I dropped off my ironing and was heading to work and the rest I don't remember," Lori recalled. "They told me in the hospital that they waited several days before they did my surgery on my neck because they didn't think I was going to make it. They grafted bone from my hip for my C 5 and C 6 vertebrae. They also put in a metal plate." Lori said she also had broken ribs and damage to her spleen.

Although Lori is confined to a wheel chair, she has been able to obtain all the up-to-date necessities to get her where she wants to go, when she wants to get there. She has a portable ramp that she can navigate her electric wheel chair on to enter homes that have stairs. She travels with a companion so she can show the rest of a home where she may not be able to go.

"I have a lot to look forward to," Lori said. "I love this area and although I now live in Boise, I want to come back. I am ready, willing and able to do the job. Your prayers and support have been a great asset in my recovery," Lori says. "I thank all who have stood by me and encouraged me to fight hard and rise above. I have been through quite a lot during my journey down lifes' path and God willing, I have many, many more goals to fulfill. I haven't come this far to give up."

Lori said she has had tremendous support from Coldwell Banker and from her friends in the area.

County addresses food by-product permit modification

Owyhee County Commissioners addressed a permit modification that is being sought by Food By-Product Management LLC to add whey waste from Meadow Gold Dairies to land applications in the county.

FBM applied for a permit modification in March and comments were due no later than April 14. The commissioners responded that any increase or modification application of wastewater would require a conditional use permit from the county. The commissioners said they were "highly" concerned with increased loads on access roads.

FBM has applied to add 1,444 acres to its application site area by including whey from Meadow Gold Dairies to its current applications. The application season is year-round.

The facility hopes to modify its permit by adding tracking of truck deliveries for daily applications of a mixture of Sorrento wash water and sludge and Meadow Gold whey. Monthly they will deliver a mixture of wastewater from a storage pond to land application.

Breshears fishing derby planned for next month

Local young experienced and in-experienced fisherpersons will have the opportunity to learn new techniques and maybe even catch a fish during the LeRoy Breshears Memorial Kids Fishing Day. The event is planned for May 14 and will again be held at the Marsing Island Park.

County D.A.R.E. officer and district representative Rich Wills who is coordinating the event, is collecting donations from individuals and businesspeople in the area. He said any donation will be accepted, but donations of $200 or more will get the donator a spot on the back of a t-shirt kids will be given.

The Owyhee County Sheriff's Department, the Idaho Department of Fish and Game, the local D.A.R.E. program, Owyhee County Sheriff's Posse and several community members organize the event. The event was coordinated after the death of long time hunter education instructor LeRoy Breshears. Breshears passed away in Marsing on April 7, 1999.

"He was a guide and inspiration to beginning hunters in both Marsing and Homedale for nearly 20 years," Owyhee County Sheriff Chief Deputy Dick Freund said. "He was certified by the Idaho Department of Fish and Game as a Hunter Education instructor in May, 1979 and over the years he taught 43 classes and graduated 838 hunter education students in the area."

The Marsing pond was opened to Owyhee County children from kindergarten through sixth grade and stocked with approximately 1,500 catch-able trout. Law enforcement volunteers hold fishing clinics to teach children how to cast, catch and clean fish. Prizes are given for a wide range of accomplishments including the biggest, smallest, first and last fish caught.

The first event recorded approximately 250 children and nearly doubled that amount the second year. Nearly every child attending wins a prize from hats and t-shirts to fishing poles and tackle.

Hot dogs, chips, and pop will be given to sportsman and many Fish and Game officers will be on hand to answer questions and help children learn to fish.

Donations can be made by calling Wills at 495-1154 or 250-0556.

Historical tour

More than 50 members and guests toured Snake River ferries from Guffy to Marsing in the historical society's first field trip. The society will travel to Elko Nevada for its next trip on May 14.

Historical Society takes field trip to ferry sites

More than 50 members and guests of the Owyhee County Historical Society gathered for the first field trip of the year, on April 9. Led by Nick and Dolores Ihli, Mary Shaw, and Jim McGill, the group toured and viewed the Snake River Ferries from Guffy to Marsing.

They gathered at Walter's Ferry, at Cleo's Ferry Museum at the historic original 1864 adobe building, one of only a couple of original buildings associated with the ferries that are still in existence. The group then viewed and discussed ten ferry or crossing sites from the Canyon County side of the Snake River. Following a potluck lunch, courtesy of the Marsing Senior Center, the group stopped at many of the same ferry sites on the Owyhee County side. They ended the tour at the Bernard barn, built at the Bernard ferry in the early 1880s, where Edgar Muller's 95th birthday party was being celebrated.

The next fieldtrip will be a two-day trip to Elko NV, touring historic ranches and settlements. A highlight of this fieldtrip will be a tour the excellent Northeastern Nevada Museum in Elko. This field trip will meet at 9 a.m. May 14, at the Riddle Store, an hour south of Bruneau, and will be led by Tom and Celia Hall, and Nick and Dolores Ihli. For more information, call the Museum at 495-2319.

Senior class to host fun night

Homedale High School seniors will host a middle school fun night for seventh and eight grade students Friday from 6-9 p.m.

The cost will be $2.50 per student and will include an evening of games, food and activities. A pig raffle will be held during the evening event. On Saturday, the senior class will conduct a car wash at the Wal-Mart parking lot in Caldwell from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. Funds raised from the events will be used for the senior class party next month.

to search for the truth." The statement says that Turner has refused to meet with electorates and has chosen to ignore the pleas of his constituents concerning the learning environment of the schools and has chosen to follow the district administration, "blindly."

"I prefer to focus on the positive, so will not address specific charges in the petition other than to state my belief that it is unwarranted," Turner said in his response to the petition. "I am deeply committed to this community, serving as an active member of the Bruneau American Legion, Bruneau PTO, Bruneau Quick Response Unit and a Bruneau Soil Conservation District Board member as well as nearly five years as a school trustee. I have a daughter who is enrolled in the district and thus a very personal interest in ensuring the district is able to function."

Turner said prior to the election that he did not feel the public would remove him, but 154 voters out of just over 200 turned out to remove the five-year trustee.

Superintendent Dallas Taylor said Wednesday that now the board will accept applications for the position and will have up to 90 days to appoint a replacement. She said Turner's term ended immediately following the results of the election on Tuesday.

Last year, a petition to recall Trustee Chairman Darrel Agenbroad was filed and an election was held in August. The recall failed in a deadlock tie.

Turner did not return calls for comment.

from or resulted from operation of a CAFO. He allowed into evidence any testimony as to safety problems on the road adjacent to the proposed site, or any threat to any neighbor if it was as a result of operation of the CAFO site, or equipment used in operating the CAFO site.

Meyers also contended that the Idaho Water Resource issuance of a permit for operation of the proposed site preempted any speculation as to water levels or water usage, or anecdotal testimony as to well levels being affected. He relied on the Idaho constitutional position of the Water Resources Board, the statutes which set the procedure for challenging the issuance of a permit, and the rules of the Department, which provide for issuance of the permit. He pointed out that when Wilke applied for the permit for operation of the site, and notice was published in the Avalanche, that provided notice to anyone who thought there would be insufficient water either for the site or for landowners in the vicinity to appear and protest the permit. He argued that it was unconstitutional and unlawful to attack the Water Resource decision that there was adequate water both for the site and for adjacent landowners collaterally in a zoning decision. After reviewing the Idaho Constitution which was amended by the people of Idaho to make the Water Resource Department a constitutional body, the statutes relating to issuance of a permit and the hearing which is made available to contest the permit, Idaho Supreme Court decisions, and the recent LU Ranching case in which the Idaho Supreme Court ruled that notice of a hearing process provided by statute is sufficient notice to put owners on guard as to the necessity of appearing in the permit process, the Hearing Officer ruled that the Water Resource decision foreclosed speculative and anecdotal evidence as to water levels. He allowed testimony as to potential contamination and quality of water, but not quantity. The ruling once again emphasized the landowners' obligation to protest during the hearing process provided by the Department of Water Resources.

Grant said that following completion of testimony, the commission will take the case under advisement. After counsel files closing briefs, the commission will then render a written decision.

Obituary

Mary Anna Slatter

Mary Anna Slatter after 90 years of life went to be with her Lord and Savior on April 10, 2005. Born the 28th of February, 1915. The 4th of fifteen children to Norman and Anna Kauffman in Kalispell Montana. Mary was raised on a homestead in Creston Montana. On April 1, 1934 Mary married A.L. (Bob) Slatter. A daughter Gladys was born in 1936 in Filer Idaho. A son Lloyd was born in 1937 in New Meadows. They also lived in Council for 8 years, Weiser for 8 years, in Homedale for 10 years, and in Nampa for 8 years. Retiring to Fruitland in 1975. When Bob passed away in 1982 she moved to Payette. She spent her last 7 years in Homedale.

Grandma always enjoyed camping, especially cooking and tending the fire. You could always find her splitting her own kindling. Mary lived and breathed music, her love of old time country and gospel left a legacy across four generations. A song was ever on her lips and in her heart, from singing in the car to insisting that every family member grab an instrument. Naturally leading to the formation of the "Slatters", a traveling musical group. Mary was active in her church, serving as a Sunday School superintendent for 14 years. Grandchildren remember a bottomless cookie jar, and an overflowing candy dish. Many will miss her.

Mary is survived by Gladys Cox of Homedale, Lloyd and Linda Slatter Weiser Idaho; 9 grandchildren, 19 great-grandchildren, and 4 great-great-grandchildren, 5 brothers and 4 sisters. She was preceded in death by her parents, her husband, 5 siblings, and 2 grandchildren.

Viewing was from 6:00-8:00 Wednesday April 13 at Flahiff Funeral Chapel Homedale. A family graveside service was held at 10:00 am on Thursday, April 14, at Parkview Cemetery, New Plymouth. Memorial services were at 1:00 pm April 14 at Deer Flat Free Methodist Church. Memorials may be sent to Deer Flat Free Methodist Memorial Fund, 17703 Beet Road, Caldwell, ID 83607, in Mary Slatter's name.

Snake River cleanup planned for Saturday; volunteers needed

A trash cleanup along one of the more popular stretches of the Snake River is planned for Saturday, April 23, beginning at 9 a.m. Additional volunteers are needed to help with this effort, sponsored by the Idaho Department of Fish and Game.

Food and refreshments will be provided, so volunteers should RSVP to Fish and Game utility craftsman Dennis Hardy at the Fish and Game Nampa office, 465-8465. Hearty volunteers should wear boots and gloves and plan to meet at Fish and Game's Map Rock site, located 6.5 miles west of the intersection of Map Rock Road and State Highway 45 at 9:00 that morning. The project should be completed by early afternoon.

The river cleanup will be conducted from the Walter's Ferry bridge downstream to the Marsing bridge. "A few workers will be assigned to boats for a portion of the cleanup effort," Hardy noted. "But most of the volunteers – and we hope to have a bunch of them – will be working along the banks of the river." Trash will be hauled to a central location for transport to a landfill. Because of a waterfowl nesting closure, federally owned islands on the Snake River will not be part of the trash collection effort this year.

Past cleanup efforts along this same stretch of river have netted more than six tons of trash, including all types of furniture, appliances and even a safe, stolen from an area business.

Area landowners are encouraged to note the cleanup effort date. "We wanted to inform land owners in advance of the activities planned for that day," Hardy noted. "So when they see a flurry of activity along the river, they will know what's going on."

For more information regarding the Snake River cleanup, contact Hardy at Fish and Game's Southwest region office, 465-8465.

Lauson said he has been working on vehicles since he was young. He is the program's 23rd gold medalist. The competition consists of several hands on stations and a written test, which Lauson said is the same test used to become CAT certified. Lauson passed the test with a 65.5 on the written and an eight on his resume. The number one score including the college

"It is tough," Lauson said. "I want to do this as a career. I almost didn't enter in diesel, but I am glad I decided to."

"The last five years we have had competition," Diesel Technology Teacher John Montana said. "Before that we were the only high school diesel shop in Idaho."

Montana took six diesel competitors and four auto competitors. Four students from health occupations also attended. Now Lauson is attempting to raise funds to travel to Missouri for the national competition, which will be held this summer. He said he has fundraisers planned and he is also seeking sponsors to help him go.

Stations include on vehicle workstations, tools, automotive service technology and several other hands on workstations. The students prepare for the competition by fixing customer's vehicles in the shop in Homedale.

Pat Malmberg of Marsing tied Lauson, but ended in second place.

Marsing School District receives grant

Beginning the new school year in September, elementary students and their families will be able to participate in a new after-school program that is designed to improve the academic proficiencies and positively influence the lives of students in grades kindergarten through fifth thanks to a over $500,000 grant.

District Superintendent Harold Shockley said the district realized the need to expand academic and enrichment opportunities for students attending Marsing Elementary School. He said the staff researched alternatives that would provide students with these expanded opportunities.

"Thanks to the commitment and dedication of the Marsing Elementary School Staff, elementary students and their families will be able to partake in, and benefit from, a new after-school program that is designed to improve the academic proficiencies and positively influence the lives of students in grades K-5," Shockley said in a statement. "This new program and the corresponding services are being made available through a Federal Grant that over the next five years will provide school district officials $521,336 in funding to develop and operate this new program for students."

Middle school tracksters compete in first meet

Homedale Middle School opened its Snake River Valley track season in fine fashion last week with the seventh and eighth grade girls defeating Ontario, Huntington and McCall and the boys placing second overall.

The seventh grade girls scored 58 points and were led by Katie Holloway's three wins in the high jump with 4'2", 100 m. hurdles, 18:82, and 400 meters, 1:15.03. Jessica Eubanks wins in the 1600, 6:430 and in the 800 meters with 3:05.08 also helped the Trojans.

Homedale also won the 4x100 relay with 1:02.36 and the 4x200 relay 2:14.27.

The Trojans swept the 400-meter run with Holloway, Eubanks 1:16.51 and Christensen with 1:17.46. Megan Harper was third in the discus with a throw of 49'9", Carmen Zatica third with a throw of 48'11 1/2", and Zatica also was third in the shot put with a throw of 20'10". Ashlynn Uria was third in the 100m hurdles with 21.33.

The eighth grade girls scored 56 points led by Anna Salas winning the long jump 13' 10 1/2" and she placed second in the 100 and 200 meters with times of 13.88 and 28.60.

Hannah Johnson and Erika Shanley dominated the 100 m hurdles with times of 18.34 and 19.05. Johnson was also third in the long jump.

Chalsea Hicks won the 1600 meters with a time of 6:44 and placed third in the 400m with 1:11.30. Homedale's 4x200 relay team coasted to a win in 2:07.51, and the sprint medley relay was second. Kelsey Martinat and Mikal Mackenzie were second and third in the high jump.

The seventh grade boys scored 47 points with Jake Tolmie leading the way with three wins in the 1600m 5:39, 400m 1:04.93, and in the 800m with 2:38.61.

Trent Acree won the high jump 4'10", was third in the 100m 13.3, third in the long jump, 13'3" and second in the 200 with 27.89.

Homedale won the 4x200 relay 1:56.68. Alex Mereness was fourth in the shot put 30'10" and fourth in the 100m hurdles 19.45 Aaron Proferes was third in the 100m hurdles 19.34.

The eighth grade boys score 55 points led by Austin Emry's two first place finishes. He won the high jump with a 5'8" jump. The school record is 5'9" set by Walt Sutterfield in 1983 and Tony Hoshaw in 1994. Emry long jumped 18', and placed fourth in the 100m and 200m.

Rodrigo Villarreal won the 100m hurdles 15.76, placed second in 100m 13.15 and third in 200m. Gibson and Fierro were first and second in the 1600m with 5:32 and 5:38. Brandon Valadez tossed the shot put 37'11 1/2" and Rowdy Lair was third with a toss of 36'.

Ulysses Vargas and Ryan Vance were third and fourth with jumps of 15'5" and 15'.

The Trojans host Payette at Homedale next Thursday, April 21.

"We had 73 athletes competing in Ontario on Thursday," Middle School Athletic Director Luci Mereness said. "It was especially great to see Greg Truesdell an eight grader compete in the shot put for the first time. He had three throws of 20 feet.

I have no doubt Greg will continue to improve each week, but just seeing him out there as a competitor and not a spectator was a great feeling.

"Thursday at Ontario was the first SRV track meet for HMS and they did their school and community proud, as they competed well on the track, but conducted themselves well off the track too. This is another great group of kids, wearing the red and white and trying to find where they can achieve success. I am looking forward to a fun spring watching the HMS track team compete."

Commentary

Baxter Black, DVM

On the edge of common sense

Unsolicited advice

Sometimes the best advice one can get is the least appreciated. I'm reminded of this observation when I hear of the honest, some would say cruel, comments the English judge Simon makes to mediocre contestants on American Idol. But blunt doesn't necessarily have to be cruel.

I had a nice visit with a fellow New Mexico State alumni who was a student when my father was the Dean of Agriculture. This man, we'll call him Don, was six months into a Master's program with the idea of becoming a college professor. Don told me he received a call from the Dean's secretary. He responded and was ushered into my father's office, who addressed him, "I've just toured a new slaughterhouse in the state and they are looking for a manager to run it. I think you are the man for the job!" Don objected. He was studying for a Master's degree. He had other plans. According to Don, my father said, "You're never going to make it in the academic world. You're too hot-headed. You'd never fit in, you might as well face that now." Don quit school, took the job and has become a successful ag businessman.

I've offered unsolicited straight talk myself. Although the recipients don't always take it, I've not regretted doing it. While speaking at a veterinary school years ago I met a brilliant older veterinary student. She was admired by her younger classmates and had assumed a leadership role. After two days of being in her company and watching her organize, lead and minister to her classmates I asked what she intended to do. "Go to graduate school and teach," she said. I gave it some thought and before I left I privately told her that she should not become a teacher. That she would be a detriment to the profession as well as herself. That she would become overbearing once she had authority. That in spite of all her attributes she lacked humility. Were she to do private practice, her animal patients might teach her that humility. But she would never learn it from books.

And I, too, have had unwanted observations come clear as years go by. I remember the first time I was on the Ralph Emery Show in Nashville. It was the result of some of my country music friends recommending me. I told a few poems and was a hit. After the show my friends took me out to dinner. I was in cloud nine. They could tell.

"Is there anything else you'd like?" they asked, smiling.

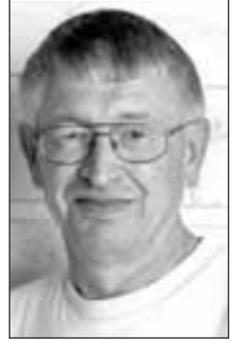

"Well," I said, "I'd like somebody famous to cut one of the songs I wrote."

My friend exclaimed, "I don't believe it! Every poet I know thinks he's a songwriter! Every songwriter thinks he's a singer, every singer thinks he's an actor, and every actor thinks he's a poet! Why can't you be satisfied with what yer good at!"

So I've learned to be content with being a poet, but every now and then I'll hear some new singer and think, "Ya know, that song I wrote for Loretta Lynn back in 1983 would sure be good for this new girl." But a little time goes by and I let it go...with a sigh.

Wayne Cornell

Not important ... but possibly of interest

Let's go back about twenty-five years. It is evening time for our three darling daughters to get ready for bed. The oldest and youngest know the drill. And make preparations to hit the hay. The three-year-old middle daughter is sitting on the floor in the bedroom shared with her younger sister, playing with her dolls.

"Jenny," I say. "It's time to pick up your toys and go to bed."

There is absolutely no indication that the little person on the floor has heard what I said. I decide to give my advisory a few minutes to sink in. I leave the room, finish some chores then return. Our little girl is still playing on the floor.

"JENNY!," I say again with a little more authority in my voice. "Let's get your dolls picked up so you can get ready for bed!"

No response.

I go back to the kitchen for a few minutes, then stroll back to the bedrooms. She still is on the floor, doing what she was doing at the time of my last visit.

"JENNY! I'M NOT KIDDING! I don't want to have to tell you again! Pick up your toys and get ready for bed!"

She begins putting a different dress on Barbie.

"JENNIFER CORNELL! GET THOSE TOYS PUT AWAY RIGHT NOW. I AM TIRED OF TELLING YOU!! PUT THAT STUFF UP AND GET TO BED!!!!"

I can feel the hair on the back of my neck standing straight up and the blood rushing up into my face..

"OK!" she replies. "YOU DON'T HAVE TO YELL!"

Now let's fast-forward to the present. Our three girls are married. The 20-month-old daughter of our middle daughter is sitting on the floor in our family room, playing with her toys. Her mother arrives from work to pick her up.

"Grace," says her mother. "It's time to put up your toys so we can go home and see daddy."

I try to help. "Gracie," I say. "Put your toys away so you can go home."

Like her mother, a quarter century earlier, the little girl on the floor makes no reply, ignores her mother and grandfather and continues to play.

"Grace," repeats her mother. "Are you listening? It's time to pick up your toys so we can go home."

More silence and no response.

Mother walks over and kneels down beside her daughter. She makes sure she has eye contact.

"Grace," she says calmly in her regular voice.

"Momma is talking to you. You need to listen when Momma is talking to you. Grace, are you listening?"

There is a moment of silence.

"Yes Momma," replies the little one in a voice just dripping with cute.

"OK." Let's pick up the toys so we can go home and see daddy."

Gracie gets up and begins gathering her toys and depositing them in the toy box. When she completes the task, her mother--the child who could not hear--tells her "GOOD JOB!"

Gracie smiles.

You know your world is changing when your children start giving you valuable tips on how to deal with children.

Letter to the editor

Affected interest

At the hearing on April 12, I attended from 1 p.m. until 7 p.m. I was effectively denied the opportunity to present my testimony regarding Wilke Farms' unauthorized expansion. Approximately 25 other affected neighbors who had put aside their work and driven out to Murphy were also denied, because Wilke counsel monopolized the time. Many of them lost that day and paid in other ways in the hope of participating.

Like myself, most of the neighbors were unable to make the trip to the extended session on Wednesday. The result was that the P and Z Commission heard principally from the offending party and not from the affected neighbors.

Let me make it clear that, as the adjoining neighbor of Wilke Farms, I am already heavily impacted by traffic, noise, flies, dust and loss of tranquility. As summer approaches I can look forward only to heavier impacts plus potential of insect borne diseases, nauseous odors and manure migration from Wilke Farms.

At the head of the list of impacts, however is the looming impacts on my water, both for domestic and landscape irrigation. Twenty-five years of property improvement are about to be destroyed because of the illegal actions of the owners of Wilke Farms, subject of the above hearing.

As I see it, Owyhee County Planning and Zoning can best observe these impacts by making a tour of my farm, the Wilke Farms and the boundary zones. I hereby urgently request you, Mr. Grant, to select a date for such a tour, when the affected public can join you on the ground to personally see the lay of the land and judge the impacts for yourselves. I am forwarding copies of this letter to all parties.

Librarian reflects

Saturday, April 19, a group of National Guardsmen, assisted by some heavy equipment, will attempt to lift the old Homedale Library building from its present foundation. The structure will then be transported a block to its new home, behind the new library building.

The original library building was constructed in 1920 by the Homedale Development Club. And for nearly two thirds of the period of its existence, it has known only one librarian. But when the library moves on Saturday, the librarian, Hazel Aldrich, won't.

After 40 years as librarian, Hazel Aldrich has decided its time to retire.

During those 40 years as librarian at Homedale, Hazel has seen several generations come and go. She remembers when the library was a major gathering place for people seeking information and/or entertainment. She watched in the early 1950s as an electronic box called "television" drew many people and their children away from books and magazines. Still, the Homedale native feels the library still plays an important role in community life.

Auction board eyes future

Members of the Homedale Disaster Fund Committee, Inc. are looking at 1980 as the beginning of a new era in the history of the group.

The disaster committee was originally formed by the Homedale Chamber of Commerce to administrate funds raised by the annual community auction. Later, the committee became involved in the actual production of the fund raising event. Recently, the chamber voted to divest itself of an interest in the committee. Now, the group, headed by president Ken Brown, is attempting to let area residents know it is alive and well and willing to help.

PTA to install officers

Installation of newly-elected officers of the Homedale Parent-Teacher Association will be held on Monday, April 21, at 8pm in the multi-purpose room of the Washington grade school at the last meeting of the current school year.

Kirt Weimer has arranged for a film presentation entitled "What You Are Now Is What You Were When." An 80 minute film from the College of Idaho film library. The film produced by a University in Colorado deals with values and perspectives of life in regard to eras.

BLM releases state report

The proposed decision on the inventory of Bureau of Land Management lands in Idaho was released last week. But it may be some time before Owyhee County residents find out how the decision will affect the area.

The "Idaho Intensive Wilderness Inventory Proposed Decision," released April 2 by the BLM, is a 160 page document listing BLM lands in the state recommended for study as wilderness. The proposed decision lists 803,836 as suitable for further study as potential wilderness. The decision also releases 1,120,508 acres from further study.

"Superwalk" scheduled

The 1980 version of the March of Dimes Superwalk will begin Saturday, April 19 at 8am at the Homedale Park.

Pledges this year are based on 32 kilometers rather than the actual 20 mile distance.

There will be a five mile "Miniwalk" for those who don't wish to participate in the main event. Local merchants have donated a number of prizes which will be presented to the winners in several different classes.

Cegnar named to honorary

Janet Cegnar, a sophomore biology major at the University of Idaho in Moscow, has been tapped for Valkyries, a U of I service honorary.

Police report car accidents

Colleen Tolmie, driving Dale Mendenhall's '53 Ford Thursday evening, April 14, ran into the Jackson building next to the Seda barber shop, breaking a large plate glass window and the concrete beneath the window.

The front bumper and fender of the car was damaged an estimated $200, according to Police Chief Jim Hill who investigated.

Poles arrive

Five of the 10 90-foot light poles for the Jaycess athletic field, arrived in Homedale Wednesday morning, April 20.

They were brought in by truck which was driven by Everett Sargent of Kooskia, and H. B. Self of Homedale, who drove the caution car.

The poles were unloaded Wednesday afternoon by H. B. Self, Everett Sargent, Gordon Cahill, Archie and Frank Matteson.

The 10 poles were purchased through H. B. Self at a cost of $1775 delivered at the fair grounds. The balance of five poles will arrive next Tuesday or Wednesday if weather permits.

Homedale locals

Mrs. Mildretta Adams, Carmen Landa and Marilyn Adams from Boise and Mrs. Alene Downing, Murphy, trekked five miles into Silver City from the lower transfer Saturday morning. Mrs. Adams says it snowed all the way in and that they waded through drifts as high as their waists. They spent the night and came out Sunday afternoon with Mike Layton, editor, and John Bailey, photographer of the News-Tribune, Caldwell, and their friend Earl Brockman, Caldwell, who had come in by foot Sunday morning. Tom Rock, who made the trip in early Sunday, returned Wednesday. They report about three feet of snow on the level.

Fred Zillig, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Zillig, arrived Friday morning to spend the week end with his family. He is stationed with the navy at Astoria, Ore. He returned Monday night.

The Empress Rebekah lodge made $37.25 at their cooked food sale Saturday at the Town and Country dress shop, which was donated to the cancer fund.

Mrs. John Zillig's daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Teel of Woodland, Calif., called her Sunday morning to wish her a happy birthday.

The Homedale high school mixed chorus and glee club under the direction of Hollis Selders, will furnish entertainment at the Cattlemen's association convention at Bruneau April 30. The chamber of commerce is sponsoring the trip and will furnish transportation.

Fred Breach, San Diego, Calif., third class electronics technician, navy, arrived at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Beach Tuesday evening for a 30 day furlough. He recently came into San Diego from Japan.

Harley Martin underwent major surgery Friday morning at the Mercy Hospital, Nampa.

The Charles E. Taylor's and I. H. Laws, Wilder, were supper guests of the John Batts Sunday evening.

Mrs. F. E. Dazey, Mrs. Matt Mathews, Mrs. Grace Colley and Mrs. Hattie Cantrell on the Beulah chapter of the Eastern Star attended a Friendship meeting Monday night of the Golden Rule chapter of the Eastern Star in Nyssa.

Mrs. John Archabal had as guests Wednesday friends from Boise, Mrs. John Nagel, Jr., Mrs. Maurice Greene, and Mrs. C. V. Wayland. They had lunch together and Mrs. Archabal showed them around the Archabal ranch.

Fifth graders tour Homedale

Pupils of Mrs. Olive Mitchell's fifth grade visited the Homedale State Bank, the Boise Payette Lumber company, the Homedale post office, the fire station and The Owyhee Chronicle Friday in a "Know Your Town" field day.

Members of the class who signed the register at the Chronicle were Dale Smith, Janet Mae Barnes, Melvin Simpson, Dewey Oeiles, Judy Wegman, Joann Mewhinney, Carol Roberts, Sandra Moehlman, Judy Mewhinney, Diana Uranga, Norma Keck, Linda Nazworthy, David Lewis, Margaret McArthur, Charles Tveidty, Carol Porter, Mary Levanger, Larry Tucker, Ferris Metcalf, Bobby Morrison, Alan Johnstone, Evelyn Stevenson, and Ellen Lincoln.

GENERAL CARTER went out yesterday to ascertain the latitude of the initial point of the public surveys. Two parties of surveyors, one under the supervision of Mr. P. W. Bell, and the other of Mr. Thompson, were before on the ground. Mr. Bell will begin at once to run the first meridian south, and then a parallel into the Owyhee mining district. Mr. Thompson will run the same meridian north and then a parallel into Boise County. This being done, the meridian will be extended into the extreme northern Counties of the Territory and to the more important localities. Alturas and Oneida Counties will receive attention as soon as it is possible to get to them. The base line, it is thought, will run through or near the Yuba District. Congress has passed an additional appropriation of $15,000, which will enable the Surveyor General to accomplish more this session than was at first supposed possible. — Statesman, 16th.

WARLIKE. The Cable dispatches indicate war abroad. Prussia and France will have a set-to, unless the latter backs down—at least Bismarck has so informed Napoleon. Russia is liable at any time to give Turkey a crush, and England may be dragged into both difficulties. The states of feeling has caused a depression in stocks and finances.

SUPPLIES. In addition to the supplies advertised for by the offices of the military Posts, the following are called for at headquarters in San Francisco for these places: Camp Smith, 130 tons; Camp Lyon, 140 tons; Camp Winthrop, 140 tons. This indicates that these Posts are not to be abandoned the present year.

THE SENATE has confirmed the Russian-American treaty of purchase. The House of Representatives have a say on it yet, but there is little doubt of final or complete confirmation. Congress may have a quorum in July, but the show for further action before next December, is slim.

POSTAGE STAMPS have finally arrived at the Ruby Office — after being due over six weeks.

SCHOOL. We are informed by parents who were present, that some very fine documentation came off in the District School a week ago yesterday; also, that a prize was carried off by Katie Blackinger. The exercises were generally interesting, and parents note marked advancement of their children.

ARMY SUPPLIES are wanted at Camp Lyon and C. F. Smith. Fine opportunities are offered for large or small contracts. Laboring men can do well by taking contracts for providing a portion of these supplies — and can rest assured of prompt payment upon fulfillment of their contracts.

A SHOOTING MATCH took place at the Shoenbar mill yesterday at three P.M. Stakes, $25 cash and one basket of champagne. Distance, 100 yards. Shots, off-hand, with muzzle loading rifle, and decision by string measure. The result of the match was unreported at the hour of going to press.

BOISE COUNTY. Placer mining in Boise Basin has generally commenced, and promises well for '67. The many ditches and other facilities inaugurated since water failed last season, warrant the opinion that one thousand more miners would find profitable employment in the Basin.

A few accidents have occurred in mining from caves, &c. A German, called "Charley", lately had his ankle badly crushed, and John Fisher his right leg fractured above the ankle.

An organization to prevent fires in Idaho City is in practical training. A good move.

"STONEWALL JACKSON" came in from Jordan Valley last week, and has since had a lawsuit, plead his own case and made considerable amusement generally. At one juncture of the proceedings he claimed possession, which was nine points, and told his opponent to take the tenth point and — do as he pleased with it. One the wind up, however, Stonewall came to the conclusion that, owing to the lightness of the air or other causes, if Christ was to die once more for sinners it would not be on account of nay love for Silver City.

AGREEABLE. To sit up till twelve o'clock at night waiting for the mail; then go to bed; get into a bully sleep; then have a mail carrier rushing and wake you up with the cry of "letters". After sitting over a pack of correspondence, he throws you a single envelope containing the highly important information in bold type — "How to get a sewing machine free of cost!" To have that done oftener than once a week would cause some swearing in these parts. We don't want a machine at any price.

- 4 tablespoons butter, divided
- 3 Granny Smith apples, peeled, cored and sliced
- 1/2 cup dark brown sugar
- Salt, to taste
- 1 cup California raisins
- 1/4 cup plus 2 tablespoons apple juice
- 3 cans (15 ounces each) cut Louisiana sweet potatoes, drained (or 3 cups fresh Louisiana sweet potatoes, peeled, cooked and cut into 2-inch pieces)
- 1/2 cup crumbled graham crackers
- Fresh ground black pepper, to taste

Preheat oven to 375°F.

Heat nonstick sauté pan over medium-high heat. Add 2 tablespoons butter and apples. Sauté several minutes until lightly browned, and then add brown sugar, salt and raisins. Mix well. Add apple juice, continue to cook 2 minutes and then transfer to 2-quart mixing bowl. Add sweet potatoes to bowl and mix gently. Coat 9 x 13-inch baking dish with 2 tablespoons butter. Transfer mixture to baking dish, top with graham cracker crumbs and ground pepper.

Bake 20 minutes. Serve with ham, beef, turkey or roast pork.

Simply Sweet MEAL SOLUTIONS

FAMILY FEATURES EDITORIAL SYNDICATE

If the inevitable query "What's to eat?"

sends chills down your spine perhaps it's time to turn things up a notch and add some zing to your kitchen repertoire. (Psssst! It doesn't hurt to sneak in some good nutrition while you're at it.)

It's astounding how a few key ingredients can completely alter the flavor of any dish. Take naturally sweet California raisins, for example. Portable and available year-round, this little ingredient adds big-time flavor. Not just for snacking anymore, raisins are a delicious and nutritious way to enhance any recipe — providing sweet balance and texture, from savory entrees to decadent desserts. Another bonus; raisins are fat and cholesterol free, high in antioxidants and an excellent source of energy.

Louisiana sweet potatoes offer another simple way to quickly jazz up otherwise standard fare, while also getting your vegetables. Available year-round, fresh or canned, sweet potatoes are extremely versatile and deliver a wallop of beta carotene, vitamin C, calcium, potassium and fiber. Sweet potatoes also sport the lowest glycemic index rating among root vegetables, as they digest slowly. (Which means you'll feel satisfied longer, too!)

So next time the family starts bugging you about their next meal, don't cringe and sigh. Instead, just smile and say, "You're in for a sweet surprise!"

New Orleans Sweet Potato Raisin Pie

- 6 medium Louisiana sweet potatoes, peeled (or 6 [15-ounce] cans cut Louisiana sweet potatoes)
- 4 cups water
- 1 cup sugar
- 3 eggs, beaten
- 6 tablespoons butter, softened
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1-1/4 teaspoons ground cinnamon
- 1 teaspoon ground nutmeg
- 1 teaspoon pure vanilla extract
- 1 cup California raisins
- 1 prepared 10-inch pie shell, baked 15 minutes at 350°F

Preheat oven to 350°F.

Cut sweet potatoes into 1-inch cubes, place in 4-quart saucepan and add water. Cover and cook over medium heat approximately 20 minutes (until very soft), then drain. (If using canned sweet potatoes, simply drain and proceed to next step. Do not add water or cook.)

Puree sweet potatoes in blender or food processor until smooth, then transfer to large bowl. Blend all remaining ingredients well, except raisins, in food processor, and add to bowl. Fold in raisins.

Pour mixture into par-baked pie shell, bake 30 minutes more at 350°F, then reduce oven temperature to 325°F and continue baking another 15 minutes. Cool to room temperature before serving. Serve with whipped cream or butter pecan ice cream.

Treat your family to a unique and delicious culinary experience that will awaken their taste buds. Try these additional recipes with California raisins and Louisiana sweet potatoes for dinner tonight!

Caribbean-Style Grilled Sweet Potatoes With Spicy Dark Rum and Raisin Glaze

- 4 Louisiana sweet potatoes, peeled and sliced 1/2-inch thick
- 2 teaspoons Caribbean jerk seasoning

Glaze:

- 1/4 cup molasses
- 1/4 cup dark rum
- 1/2 cup dark brown sugar
- 1 tablespoon Caribbean jerk seasoning
- 3/4 cup California raisins
- 2 tablespoons butter, softened

Preheat grill to medium-low heat.

Spray medium mixing bowl with nonstick cooking spray. Place sliced sweet potatoes in bowl and add jerk seasoning; toss well to coat.

Place on grill and let cook over low heat, turning after potatoes start to brown (about 4 minutes). Turn heat down to lowest setting and cover grill.

To prepare glaze, combine molasses, rum, brown sugar and jerk seasoning in small saucepan. Heat over medium-high heat and let simmer 5 minutes. Add raisins, lower heat and simmer on lowest setting 5 minutes more. Remove saucepan from heat, add butter and mix well.

Place grilled sweet potatoes in medium mixing bowl, add raisin glaze and toss to coat. Serve with grilled steaks, pork chops, chicken or fish.
